To Whom it May Concern:

I am happy to write a letter on behalf of Edward E. Sheldon, who received a Master's Degree in Psychology from our program in December 1979. Since he was a student in three of my courses and an intern in the Antioch Counseling Center of which I am a staff member, I have had the opportunity to be very familiar with both his academic and his clinical work.

Ed is a dynamic, idealistic man who was a superior student in our program. His course work revealed his fine mind, his good grounding in psychology, and his unusually well-developed capacity for independent thinking. He was one of the top students in our program, completing the master's degree in four quarters rather than the usual five. I would recommend him to any Ph.D. program in psychology, and would expect him to do excellent work in such a program.

In his clinical work he was noteworthy for responsibility, attention to ethical issues, and intuitive skill. He has excellent capacities as an administrator as well, and did some good work straightening out the business functioning of the Counseling Center while he was an intern.

I would be happy to provide further information if this would be helpful.

Sincerely,

Sara K. Winter, Ph.D.
